About

Ann Beegan Lanney of Rundlett Middle School has been honored as the New Hampshire School Nurse of the Year for 2024-2025 by the New Hampshire School Nurses' Association. Ann's colleagues provided compelling testimonials that clearly demonstrate the trust and confidence she inspires in her school community. They commend her for her wealth of knowledge, deep understanding of nursing best practices, and her insightful approach to student health. It is her ability to foster a collaborative spirit that truly embodies the values of the New Hampshire School Nurses' Association and underscores the reason for her selection. One of her colleagues notes that she possesses “a wealth of knowledge and experience with great insight into nursing best practices”. The New Hampshire School Nurse Association is thrilled to share and celebrate Ann’s achievements with this award.
